"German Syrup"

Here is something from Mr. Frank A. Hale, proprietor of the De Witt House, Lewiston, and the Tontine Hotel, Brunswick, Me. Hotel men meet the world as it comes and goes, and are not slow in sizing people and things up for what they are worth. He says that he has lost a father and several brothers and sisters from Pulmonary Consumption, and is himself frequently troubled with colds, and he often coughs enough to make him sick at Consumption's stomach. Whenever he has taken a cold of this kind he uses Boschee's German Syrup, and it cures him every time. Here is a man who knows the full danger of lung troubles, and would therefore be most particular as to the medicine he used. What is his opinion? Listen! "I use nothing but Boschee's German Syrup, and have advised, I presume, more than a hundred different persons to take it. They agree with me that it is the best cough syrup in the market."

A BOY HERO.

In heartless Paris, which to foreign eyes seems made of mirrors, sunlight and display, A splendid butterfly's wings began to rise, Ascending stone by stone from day to day.

High and more high the pile was built, well, And scores of heroes were busy there, When suddenly a fragile stage fell, And two strong workmen swung aloft in air.

Suspended by their hands to one slight hold, That beat and creaked beneath their sudden weight, One worn with toil, and growing gray and old, One a mere boy, just reaching man's estate.

Yet with a hero's soul. Alone and young, Who is not well to die his single life, On which no parent loaned, no children clung, And save the other to his babes and wife?

He saw that ere deliverance could be brought, The frail support they grasped must surely break, And in that shuddering moment's flash of thought He chose to perish for his comrade's sake.

With bravery such as heroes seldom know, "This right," he said, and loosing his strong grip, Dropped like a stone upon the stones below, And lay there dead, the smile still on his lip.

What though no laurels grow his grave above, And o'er his name no sculptured shaft may rise? To the sweet spirit of unselfish love, Was not his life a glorious sacrifice?

—Elizabeth Akers in Harper's Young People.

How He Expressed It.

In a thriving village of Oxford county are people who still enjoy relating a little incident illustrative of the confusion likely to fall upon the stranger to our language who uses synonyms indiscriminately. The pastor of the leading church had made arrangements to exchange with a good German brother of the same denomination. Having himself been a witness to some ludicrous mistakes of that worthy, the minister was not without a feeling of uneasiness.

The German having arrived in the village Saturday was courteously invited to a pleasant gathering near the parsonage. The elite of the town were present. All went well with our German friend until he was introduced to the beautiful Miss Howard, whose matchless complexion was the pride of the village. Feeling that such beauty deserved some recognition, and wishing to compliment the beautiful stranger, the German exclaimed with his beaming admiration, "Why, fraulein, what a beautiful hide you have!" —Lewiston Journal.

Cause of Corpulency.

It is very evident that corpulency is due to some peculiarity within the system which favors the increase and storage of fat, but the actual cause is yet to be determined. Physicians who have been corpulent, and therefore have had the most favorable opportunities for study and experiment, have all reached the same conclusions—namely, that corpulency indicates a degree of ill health—not of excellent health, as many people suppose. They also hold that one and very potential cause of the abnormal storage of fat is the lack of functional activity in certain important organs of the body, and particularly those concerned in freeing the system of waste products. In other words, when the system is choked up with waste less fat is consumed therein, and its accumulation is favored. —Boston Herald.

A Butterfly Social.

A "butterfly social" is one of the novel entertainments for raising funds in charitable work. The room is decorated with butterflies of tissue paper, and in the center of the ceiling a huge butterfly of wire and thin silk or paper is suspended, some three feet from one wing tip to the other. The legs of the insect are of wire, painted black. Those who preside over the affair are dressed to resemble different varieties of butterflies, in blue and silver chiffon, black, brown and yellow velvet, with gauze wings and a butterfly for a headress. —Exchange.

Steel Rails as Pit Props.

In consideration of the serious inroads which are being made on the timber of this country by the use of wooden props in mines, it is satisfactory to note that a patent has been taken out for a method of making steel rails into pit props and supports for collieries, mines, tunnels, bridges, etc. The rails are cut at their ends and suitably framed together. In point of cost it is said that this mode of propping compares favorably with brick and other systems. —New York Commercial Advertiser.

The Monkey and the Rounder.

A man walks round a pole, on the top of which is a monkey. As the man moves the monkey turns round on the top of the pole so as still to keep face to face with the man. When the man has gone round the pole, has he, or has he not, gone round the monkey?

As rather answer to this question may be upheld with strong and logical arguments, the reader is left to decide the question for himself. —New York Tribune.

An English North country church has published a scale for contributions expected for the collection plate. The church will be content if it receives two pence for every five shillings of income, or 8 per cent. A man in receipt of thirty pounds sterling a week is expected to give a sovereign.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 27, 1891

WHITE HOUSE ELECTIONEERING.

Senator Stewart, in an interview in New York City, expressed himself as being opposed to the President of the United States having a second term of office. He thinks it is honor enough for one man to be President for four years, and the people have the right to the undivided and unbiased services of the Executive upon whom they confer such distinguished honor.

The temptation to use the high office of President for electioneering purposes should be removed. President Cleveland, before his election, took the right view of the question, as he was then opposed to a second term, but the temptation was too great for him as it had been for all his predecessors, and will be for his successors.

The Senator says he has prepared an amendment to the Constitution, which he will introduce at the next session of Congress, limiting the incumbent of the office to one term. The amendment will have no reference to the campaign of 1892 and its operations will look to the future and provide against the evil growing out of Presidential campaigns in the White House.

Senator Stewart is right and his proposed amendment to the Constitution making the President ineligible for re-election should be adopted. To be President of the United States, chosen by the electors or representatives of forty-two States and sixty odd millions of people, is the highest political honor that can be conferred on man. He can annul the acts of two Congresses during his term of office by declining to approve them, and he has the disposal of over one hundred thousand offices. Through the departments, custom houses, post-offices, revenue collectorships and a thousand and one other offices, he can almost insure the endorsement of his Administration, however objectionable it may be to the masses, by State conventions, and can control a third or more of the delegates in a National convention. Instead of laying the political wires for a renomination, and using the whole power of the Administration, as Mr. Harrison is said to be doing for that purpose, he should, as Senator Stewart says, give his undivided and unbiased services to the country, as he doubtless would if he was debarred by the Constitution from being his own successor.

A DRUMMER NOT A PEDDLER.

Fred Baker, a drummer, was selling goods in Iowa by sample. The goods were to be delivered from Minneapolis. He was arrested, fined and imprisoned for peddling without a license as provided by a city ordinance. He sued out a writ of habeas corpus returnable before the District Judge, who decided that as the goods were not in the State when the sale was made, Baker was not peddling and the laws of the United States provide that no tax shall be levied on inter-State traffic, therefore the fine was wrongfully imposed.

This decision is in accord with that of the Supreme Court of the United States, and, though it is law, it does not seem to be justice. If a resident of Nevada sells goods in the town where he resides or in any part of the State, without a license to do so, he is liable to fine or imprisonment, but if a resident of California or any other State does so he requires no license and is subject to no penalty. The resident merchant or peddler, who is taxed to support the State, county and town governments, may be compelled under penalty to take out a license for what an itinerant vendor, who is here to-day and perhaps in Utah or California to-morrow and pays no tax whatever, is permitted to do with impunity.

PROGRESS IN UTAH.

The Salt Lake Herald, which has been the organ of the People's party in Utah for many years, has been purchased by Gentiles, and will henceforth advocate Democratic principles. As heretofore stated in these columns, the Gentiles of Utah are dividing on national issues, and the Mormons evince a disposition to do likewise, and the Democrats purchased the Herald to advocate their principles. R. O. Chambers, Superintendent of the Ontario mine, and ex-United States Marshal Dyer, are the principal owners of the new paper, the purchase price of which was $100,000. John T. Caine, Delegate to Congress, R. W. Young, a graduate of West Point, and other prominent members of the People's party, have taken stock with the Gentiles in the Herald, and will assist in the movement to organize on new political issues.

In Ogden the Mormon Standard has abandoned the People's party and advocates Republican principles. The dissatisfaction at Liberal rule in Salt Lake and Ogden, which is nearly as bad as Tweedism was in New York City years ago, was widespread among both Gentiles and Mormons, and caused the better element of both to revolt and organize under the banners of the national parties.

The case of young Raum, accused of selling positions in the Pension Office at Washington, has been referred by Attorney General Miller to the United States Attorney for the District of Columbia for whatever action may be required by law.

A Washington special says the leaders of the People's Party profess to have direct assurances that Senator Stanford is ready to put himself at the head of the movement and that he will be the standard bearer of the Farmers' Alliance next year.

SALISBURY ANSWERS BLAINE.

The Captain of the Esmeralda Says He is Waiting for Instructions.

MEXICO AIDING THE INSURGENTS

The Thayer-Boyd Controversy—Suicide of a 13-Year-Old Boy—Explosion in the Ivanhoe Tunnel—Charges Against General Orsany.

The Knights of Labor Prefer Charges Against General Arway.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—A committee composed of Messrs. Bowen, Wild and Hambleton, representing a District Assembly of the Knights of Labor, have presented the Secretary of War with charges against Brigadier General Orsany, commanding the National Guard of the District of Columbia. The charges in effect are that the General in a lecture to the officers of the guard used language that was treasonable and incendiary, and calculated to create in the minds of the militia officers the sense of their superiority to law and bitter hatred add blood-thirsty vindictiveness toward such people as they may be called upon to restrain in the interest of peace and good order. The Secretary promises the committee that the charges should have proper consideration.

Lord Salisbury on the Behring Sea Question.

New York, May 26.—A Herald Washington special says: Lord Salisbury at last has broken his long silence regarding the Behring sea agreement, but has neither accepted nor rejected Blaine's suggestion that the closed season be agreed to on condition that the North American Fur Sealing Co. be allowed seals enough to compensate them for their expenses at Seal Islands. His communication is delivered through Sir Julian Pauncefote, who said that Salisbury is not indifferent to the importance of the subject, nor is he seeking needless delay. He hesitated because of the strong opposition which developed all over British North America to the closed season.

Mexico and the Chilean Insurgents.

New York, May 26.—A private letter received to-day from the City of Mexico, written May 19th by a business man who has ample facilities for getting correct information, says there is much reason to believe the Mexican authorities are quietly giving aid to the Chilean insurgents. The Esmeralda has been able to get all the coal she wanted, and private advices from Mazatlan reported that war materials brought from San Francisco had been transferred early this morning to ships belonging to Chilean insurgents. The same letter mentions rumors of a secret treaty between Mexico and San Salvador against Guatemala.

Has Mexico Recognized the Chilean Insurgents?

CITY OF MEXICO, May 26.—The Diario del Hogar publishes a letter from Acapulco which says the Chilean insurgent steamer Esmeralda, on entering that port saluted the Mexican flag and the Mexican Government in return saluted the Esmeralda's flag, thus making it an open question whether this was a recognition by Mexico of the Chilean insurgents. The captain of the Esmeralda in an interview at Acapulco a few days ago, said it was not his intention to take coal by force, or he would have done so before. He also said he was not in a hurry to leave port but was waiting further instructions.

Senator Call Re-Elected.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 26.—Fifty-four votes were cast in joint session of the Legislature to-day for United States Senator, of which Call received 52.

Nearly all the anti-Call Senators left the city to break a quorum if possible. The Sergeant-at-Arms was sent after them. When the joint session was called to order the anti-Call men refused to answer to their names, but on a call of the roll fifty-four legislators responded. On the vote Call had fifty-one, and was declared elected.

Rain and Hail at Carson.

CARSON, Nev., May 26.—Torrents of rain and batteries of hail, intermixed with thunder showers during the day. Lightning struck the electric light wires on Main street, stripping the insulation for 300 yards. A cloud burst on the Lakeview road struck Frank Collins, a teamster, throwing him some distance. No damage was done to the horses. Portions of the road were washed out and fences torn way.

"Plenty Horses" Trial.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., May 26.—The Government closed the case in "Plenty Horses" trial to-day, with the testimony of an eye-witness to the crime. Thomas Flood, interpreter for Pine Ridge, stated that the prisoner could speak English fluently. The defense introduced the testimony of American Horse and William Thompson of Fort Keogh, Montana, and will probably close the case to-morrow.

The Thayer-Boyd Controversy.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 26.—Governor Thayer to-day received a letter from President Harrison in relation to the alleged interview concerning the Thayer-Boyd controversy. The President simply says that it is unnecessary to make an explanation as he could not and would not have indulged in a discussion of the gubernatorial controversy in Nebraska.

Two Miners Killed.

LEADVILLE, May 26.—Yesterday while Morris Donovan and Adolph Kauffman were working a drill in the Ivanhoe tunnel the drill struck an old charge of giant powder, causing a terrific explosion and literally tearing into fragments both men. Several miners working near were slightly injured.

Grand Jury Indictments.

WALLA WALLA, May 26.—The Grand Jury reported to the Superior Judge this afternoon that they had found a number of true bills against certain parties implicated in the lynching of Hunt. The names of the parties were not made public, and it is probable that no arrests will be made until the investigation has proceeded farther.

A Boy Suicides.

BAKER CITY, Or., May 26.—Willie Prinett, aged 13 years, was found this morning five miles from this place, near his home, with a bullet hole through his breast, a 44-calibre revolver was lying near his right hand and a box of cartridges by his side. The boy was chastised last evening by his father and it is thought this caused him to take his life.

Got Married and Were Released.

TUCSON, A. T., May 26.—A Star special from Florence says: "The United States Grand Jury returned forty-two indictments, 27 of which are under the Edmunds Polygamy bill. A number of Mormons were indicted. The remainder are charged with adultery. Ten of the indicted immediately got married and were let off with a small fine."

Judge Deady Allows Them to Land.

PORTLAND, May 26.—Nine Japanese women who came over on the steamship Pemptos and who were not allowed to land at San Francisco on the ground that they were brought to this country for immoral purposes, were brought before U. S. Judge Deady to-day on a writ of habeas corpus. Judge Deady ordered them set at liberty.

Choyanski and Goddard.

MELBOURNE, May 26.—Arrangements have been made for a second match between Joe Choyanski and Joe Goddard, to take place July 20th, for a purse of $400. The men fought several months ago, and Goddard was winner.

Chilean Insurgents Treat With Bolivia.

PARIS, May 26.—The agent of the Chilean insurgents announces that the Congressional party, through the provisional Junta, has concluded a treaty of friendship with Bolivia.

MONTGOMERY DISTRICT.

Advice to Those Going to the New Mines.

The Candelaria Belt gives the following advice to persons going to the new mines in Southern Nye: "The good news from Montgomery district having started travel in this direction, we wish to say to parties from Alaska and British Columbia that they need not bring snow-shoes or fur overcoats with them. The snow is gone and the land has warmed up to about 120 degrees in the shade, so that they need not fear chilblains or rheumatism. Water is abundant every forty or fifty miles, while chuckwallas and tarantulas are plentiful on both sides of the road. Near Ash Meadows the mesquite timber is alive with sandhill cranes and other waterfowl, so that it may be a good scheme to take along your shotguns. As the hard winter ruined the bacon and potato crop we suggest the propriety of taking a supply of each, and also sufficient hard liquor to 'stand off' the effects of climate, bad water and snake bites. Gentlemen contemplating a tour on foot are advised to go via Salt Lake and await the completion of the railroad."

Don't wager that ten 10-cent pieces weigh as much as a silver dollar. They do not. The Superintendent of the Mint says they only weigh nine-tenths as much.

Many people wondered why Mr. and Mrs. Kendal are never to be seen acting unless in each other's company. The reason is that when they married they made a vow never to be parted when playing—a vow they have kept to this day, with what happy results everybody knows.

A want of quickness in the sense of smell must be caused by anything which shuts off the air from the olfactory nerves—a polypus, for example, or facial paralysis, which interferes with nasal dilation and the necessary muscular effort in smelling.

The Number of Sealing Schooners Show an Increase Over Last Year.

OTTAWA, May 25.—The Customs Department has received a report showing the number of sealing schooners cleared from British Columbia ports for Behring sea this Spring to be forty-nine, an increase of twenty over last year.

In a prize fight at Lyne, Massachusetts, James Burns died from the effects of a blow from his adversary, Harry Tracy of Cambridge.

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

To Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me to buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other."

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." Mrs. ELIZA A. GOFF, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.

Barnum's "Brick Man."
As an illustration of one of Barnum's ingenious methods of attracting attention to his museum may be mentioned the incident of the "brick man." One day a man applied for admission to Barnum, who was sitting in the ticket office. To the inquiry as to why he did not go to work, the mendicant replied that he would gladly do so at a dollar a day if he could find employment. Barnum gave him twenty-five cents to get his breakfast, and told him to return, and he would give him a dollar and a half a day and easy work. When the man returned, Barnum gave him five bricks, and told him to place one in front of the museum,
another on the corner of Vesey street, a third at the corner of Fulton - on the St.
Paul's church side - and the fourth on the east corner of Fulton. Returning then to the museum, he was to take up the first brick and replace it with the fifth, and then continue his rounds, putting down one brick and taking up the other each time.

He was enjoined to answer no questions and to seem not to hear, and that at the end of each three-quarters of an hour he was to pass into the museum,
look around at the curiosities for fifteen minutes and then resume his rounds with the bricks. Barnum says that the man played his part to perfection, and his eccentric conduct caused a great crowd to gather about the museum.
Many of these, of course, went into the museum to seek some explanation as to the purpose of the "brick man." This was kept up for several days, until the police requested his withdrawal, because such crowds lingered about the museum that traffic was interrupted. - J. G. Speed in Harper's Weekly.

Importance of Breathing Properly.
In all the various systems of physical culture now in vogue the greatest importance is attached to taking the breath properly. The breathing should be slow and deep, six breaths a minute being a safe average. There is still a difference of opinion in regard to the relative value of abdominal and chest breathing, and each system has its advantages. One of the best exercises for increasing the capacity of the lungs is to draw a full breath very slowly and through the nose.
Keep the lungs inflated as long as possible, and then expel the air suddenly through the mouth, and repeat the process.

Care should be taken not to try to make the period of holding the breath too long at the start; the more gradually the power of doing this is attained the better will be the permanent results.
There are many breathing exercises, and one of the best is the taking of a deep breath and swinging the arms, first one,
then the other, and finally both, while the breath is inhaled. Excessive practice of any system should be avoided,
and the golden rule of taking moderate and judicious exercise should be observed. - New York Commercial Advertiser.

An Outfit for Traveling.
A woman who has traveled a great deal abroad says: "A steamer trunk ought to hold all of one's baggage for a summer trip to Europe. In addition to a warm, loose flannel wrapper for cabin
use and half a dozen changes of linen,
all that is really required is a close fitting traveling suit of dark cloth or serge with toque to match sitting firmly on the head in case of a stiff breeze while upon the deck, while some prefer the less dressy worsted or velvet hood to protect the ears and throat; a short wrap of warm material, a long mackintosh to envelop the form during stormy weather, stout shoes and a light plaid to throw over the knees, either when seated upon the deck of a steamer or traveling around in an open carriage upon land.
"With this necessary outfit and a light summer silk for the warmer days of sight seeing, one is well equipped for the longest journey, and may travel at ease free from the anxiety attendant upon the possession of the usual list of trunks carried by most novices while upon a journey." - Boston Transcript.

The Vanderbilt System and Its Managers.
More than 7,000 miles of railroad are absolutely controlled and operated by the Vanderbilt family. The roads which are advertised as the "Vanderbilt system" are the New York Central and Hudson River, the Michigan Central,
the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern,
the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis, the West Shore, and the New York, Chicago and St. Louis. These six roads with their leased lines and the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg, which has been purchased by the Vanderbilts, have 7,300 miles of line and represent a capital stock of more than $150,000,000. Their bonded indebtedness will aggregate nearly $300,000,000.
These roads are under the absolute control and personal direction of Cornelius Vanderbilt. As his principal aids in managing this property Cornelius Vanderbilt has surrounded himself with four brilliant men. They are Chauncey M.
Dewey, John Newell, Henry B. Ledyard and Melville E. Ingalls. - Chicago Herald.

A Daughter of a Duchess.
The younger daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught was born on St.
Patrick's Day, and rejoices in the name of Victoria Patricia, so called in honor of her grandama and that Irish saint. An American lady living in London, and who seems to know a good deal about a real beauty, and that her cousins, of whom there is a troop, call her "Patsy!"
Whether this will render the name popular in aristocratic circles remains to be seen, but Patricia in itself is a lovely mouthful and a decided improvement on Gladys and Gwendolyn, which are as common as Edith and Mabel were ten years ago. - London Letter.

In Ghana the wives and daughters of the Ghermen get from the factor patterns and thread, hand spun flax or silk,
and return the same weight in lace, receiving therefor such a price as pays them wages of five to ten cents a day.
